To Whom It May Concern:

When I first heard about SIB's services and their claims of saving money, I was skeptical. But after speaking with their team and learning more about their process, I realized it was a win-win.

Because SIB works on a contingency-fee basis, I knew that if they didn't find any savings, we wouldn't owe any money. But as it turns out, they did find savings in both our telecom and waste spending. They even found services that we were paying for that we weren't using.

All in all, our experience with SIB has been a good one and I would definitely recommend their services to any other Pizza Hut franchisee or business owner.
